Two colored soldiers, while in a state of ntoxication, attempted to commit violence upon the person of a respectable young lady, a resident of Covington, Ky., on Sunday evening last. The secondrels had succeeded in drag ging her into a hollow in the neighborhood of the Licking river, when her cries fortunately attracted the attention of some passing citizens who speedily liberated her from the hands of the ruflians, after which they administered to them a sound thrashing, accompanied by a ducking in a pond near by.

Late on Sunday evening last a bloody fight occurred on the Gallatin pike, Edgefield, between two soldiers belonging to the 13th regulars and two negroes. The soldiers were intoxicated, and commenced the difficulty by assaulting the negroes. One of the negroe then picked up a rock, and, holding it in his hand, struck one of the soldiers, knocking him down, and inflicted the same treatment on the other. Both of the soldiers were badly cut in the head, and their wounds were considered dangerous.

IMPORTANT TO DRAFT Associations -The following item, which we find in the Chicago Journal of Friday evening, will be interesting to the members of the draft clubs of this city. to whom it is as applicable as to those of Chicago: S. Some ten or twelve more years passed rapidly away. An awful portentions sound, as if the seven thunders had uttered their voice, was heard in the far distant South, shaking the pillars of the dome of liberty, and causing the proud American eagle, whose flight hitherto had only been upward and onward, to lower and topple from the walls of old Sumpter. The thunders had no sooner uttered their voice than the lightning conveyed the meaning to the far distant West—"To arms! to arms! your country calls!" The rallying cry rings out from every quarter. The Paris Barer—The Parisians will have new bread to dip into their matutinal coffee, so the baker must labor through the night. He must stand for hours between the current of night air and the mouth of the oven. He is thirty years old before he becomes a perfect workman; at forty his strength is exhausted, and he is good for nothing. His sun is a smoky oil lamp; the home of his waking moments a stifling cellar. The air is charged with particles of flour that produce opthalmia. He is cramped with rheumatism, and shaken with a chronic cough. The doctors who have examined the question declare that it is impossible for a journeyman baker to pursue his vocation after he is fifty years of age. Melancholy, however, as the lot is of the Paris bread maker, it is borne with patient courage. The trade is never in want of hands, and it is regularly established. like trades of happier promise, with W. FRAZER HAVING PURCHASED THE outside of M. A. howing, is now a member of our firm.

TO THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

New York, March 15. The Herald's Newbern correspondence, dated March 11th, says that some of the heaviest ighting there has been since the corps, commanded by General Cox, reached the vicinity of Kinston, occurred on Friday. The rebels had evidently learned that General far off, and would soon join Cox, and it urged them to extraordinary desperation.

They charged again and again upon our works, making ten or twelve separate charges through the day. Generally they spent their fury upon the left, but some of the time they would charge upon the entire line, vainly hoping that the momentum of so large a body would break down everything.

Our men flowever stood their ground heroically, as attested by piles of slain rebels lying before our works in vatious directions. The enemy also fought with valor worthy of a better cause.

Friday night and Saturday morning Couch's orces came up from towards Wilmington and fleeted a junction with Cox which gave us an dvantage of course, of which the rebels were ot slow to become informed, so they at once ugan to fall back, abandoning all further operations of the state of the control of t osition on this side of the Neuse river, and they be now on the north side of the river with the ridge that crosses over to Kingston partially

The much talked of ram Neuse was also pardge or by relaving new timbers over the old we apprehend that there will be no difficulty ow in driving the rebels back from any point where they may see fit to take a stand.

NECROLOGICAL. - The telegraph shocked us on yesterday with the announcement of the decease, at his residence in Cincinnati, of our friend Charles Davenport, Esq., the able and energetic Superintendent of the Southern Division of the Western Union Telegraph Company, Mr. Davenport came to Cincinnati in the spring of 1849 as a telegraph operator. His untiring industry and unrivalled skill attracted the attention of the company with which he was then connected, and he radidly advanced over the intermediate positions until he became superintendent of one of the largest divisions of telegraph in the country. Thoroughly posted in his business, and a strict disciplinarian in practice, the company owed to his efforts much of their success, and the present condition of the Western Union Telegraph Company is indebted, in no small degree, to his labors. Although necessarily engrossed in business,

Mr. Davenport was not unmindful of the claims of society, nor regardless of the amenities of life. Charitable without ostentation, his many acts of benevolence are confined mainly to the hearts of their recipients. Public spirited, there was no enterprise within the range of his usual avocations to which he did not aid with his money and influence. As a scholar, he was versed in the classics to an extent which excited the admiration of many an alumnus, and his researches into the domains of esthetics were seldom equalled out of the ranks of gentlemen of fortune and leisure.

In commercial transactions Mr. Davenport was candid, prompt, and reliable. Not only did his efforts promote the interest of the company to which he was attached, but they were also advancing him rapidly on the road to fortune when the great Reaper gathered him into

THE BEAUTIES OF THE CENSORSHIP .- "Perley," the Washington correspondent of the Boston Journal, gives the following illustration of the wisdom of the telegraphic censor:

The censor, obeying the instructions which he had received, struck out all about Wilmington, but left the word "midnight." A SINGULAR AFFAIR .- We find the following in the Evansville Journal of Tuesday: By gentlemen from Henderson we learn that By gentlemen from Henderson we learn that, a day or two ago, three guerillas of some note came into Henderson and gave themselves up to Major Shook, and took the oath of allegiance or annesty, and were permitted to leave for home. As they left the city, a number of colored troops, who were lying in wait, fired on the gaerillas, killing one of them. The other two returned to the city and claimed the protection returned to the city and claimed the protection of the military authorities.

The affair caused considerable excitement and some bad feeling in Henderson, and some inculged in quite bitter remarks against Colonel Glenn and his command. We have heard but one side of the story, and refrain from any remarks of our own, further than to express our fullest confidence that the act of the negro troops was unauthorized by Colonel Glenn, as we are confident he would not sanction any such a cowardly outrage as this is represented to have been.

Two colored soldiers, while in a state of atoxication, attempted to commit violence apon the person of a respectable young lady, a resident of Covington, Ky., on Sunday evening last. The scoundrels had succeeded in dragging ber into a hollow in the neighborhood o the Licking river, when her cries fortunately attracted the attention of some passing citizens who speedily liberated her from the hands of the ruffians, after which they administered to them a sound thrashing, accompanied by a ducking in a pond near by.

Late on Sunday evening last a bloody fight occurred on the Gallatin pike, Edgefield, between two soldiers belonging to the 13th regulars and two negroes. The soldiers were intoxicated, and commenced the difficulty by assaulting the negroes. One of the negroes then picked up a rock, and, holding it in his hand, struck one of the soldiers, knocking him down, and inflicted the same treatment on the other. Both of the soldiers were badly cut in the head, and their wounds were considered dangerous.

He pressed me to dine with him that day, adding that "brother ("little Frank") frank is newly married, and will dine with me to day." I cordially accepted the invitation, and spent some two or three hours very pleasantly under his village roof with him and his kind lady and "little Frank," conversing chiefly on reminiscences of the past. More than passed rapidly away. An awful portentions sound, as if the seven thunders had uttered their voice, was heard in the far distant South, shaking the pillars of the dome of liberty, and ing asthefumes of burning sulphur. He rose rapidly in rank in the proud army of the Northwest, and his gallant conduct on bloody fields, won for him the promotion of Major-General. The wrier is not sufficiently acquainted to speak isedly of his military career. Shall I tell reader that that rough-faced rustic boy of thirty-five years ago, squatted hard by the jamb, reading by a brush candle, is Major-General John Newton Palmer commanding the District of Kentucky? Sherman has Reached Fayetteville. Sanitary Supplies at the Front. TO THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

He is Very Handsomely Repulsed.

New York, March 15. The Herald's Newbern correspondence, dated March 11th, says that some of the heaviest fighting there has been since the corps, commanded by General Cox, reached the vicinity of Kinston, occurred on Friday. The rebels had evidently learned that General Couch, with a portion of the 23d corps, was not far off, and would soon join Cox, and it urged far off, and would soon join Cox, and it urged them to extraordinary desperation.

They charged again and again upon our works, making ten or twelve separate charges through the day. Generally they spent their fury upon the left, but some of the time they would charge upon the entire line, vainly hoping that the momentum of so large a body would break down everything.

Our men however stood their ground heroically, as attested by piles of slain rebels lying before our works in various directions. The enemy also fought with valor worthy of a better cause.

Friday night and Saturday morning Couch's forces came up from towards Wilmington and effected a junction with Cox which gave us an advantage of course, of which the rebels were not slow to become informed, so they at once began to fall back, abandoning all further opposition on this side of the Neuse river, and they are now on the north side of the river with the bridge that crosses over to Kingston partially burned.

The much talked of ram Neuse was also parally destroyed. Our forces followed them up igorously, and will doubtless prepare to cross over the river at once by means of a pontoon bridge or by relaying new timbers over the old bridge for the cars to pass over.

We apprehend that there will be no difficulty now in driving the rebels back from any point where they may see fit to take a stand.

Note.—This correspondent says Sherman has been heard from at Fayetteville, reporting all right. Laurel Hill, and not Fayetteville, is the place undoubtedly.—Reporter.

The Herald's Washington special says that a letter from Schofield's headquarters, Newbern, March 11, says: This morning Hoke attempted to break our lines, but was repulsed with terrible slaughter.

Our own loss is not more than 300 or 400 killed and wounded. The rebel loss in killed, wounded, and prisoners is eight times greater.

On the morning of the 11th scouts from Sherman reached Wilmington with news that his array had reached Fayette-ville, North Carolina, and were camped in its immediate vicinity, quietly resting preparatory to another march northward.

NEWBERN, N. C., March I2. Yesterday the enemy fell back across the Neuse river, after burning the bridge across that stream.

It is also reported that they burned the rebel ram at the same time, which was guarding the bridge. Timber is now going forward to re-build the bridge. The railroad is completed to within a short distance of the river, opposite inston. The enemy will not be able to remain in Kinsten long, even if they decide to make another stand, of which there is much doubt. De NECROLOGICAL. - The telegraph shocked us on yesterday with the announcement of the lecease, at his residence in Cincinnati, of our friend Charles Davenport, Esq., the able and energetic Superintendent of the Southern Division of the Western Union Telegraph Company. Mr. Davenport came to Cincinnati in the spring of 1849 as a telegraph operator. His untiring industry and unrivalled skill attracted the attention of the company with which he was then connected, and he radidly advanced over the intermediate positions until he became superintendent of one of the largest divisions of elegraph in the country. Thoroughly posted in his business, and a strict disciplinarian in practice, the company owed to his efforts much of their success, and the present condition of the Western Union Telegraph Company is indebted, in no small degree, to his labors.

Although necessarily engrossed in business, Mr. Davenport was not unmindful of the claims of society, nor regardless of the amenities of life. Charitable without ostentation, his many acts of benevolence are confined mainly to the hearts of their recipients. Public spirited, there was no enterprise within the range of his usual avocations to which he did not aid with his money and influence. As a scholar, he was versed in the classics to an extent which excited the admiration of many an alumnus, and his researches into the domains of esthetics were seldom equalled out of the ranks of gentlemen of fortune and leisure.

In commercial transactions Mr. Davenport was candid, prompt, and reliable. Not only did his efforts promote the interest of the company to which he was attached, but they were also advancing him rapidly on the road to fortune when the great Reaper gathered him into his garner.

Mr. Davenport died young, if that term is to be measured by years. But, although barely

THE FINAL BATTLE OF THE WAR TO BE FOUGHT IN ILLINOIS.—The Chicago Post says:

A Federal officer who recently visited the rebel General Forrest at Rienzi, Mississippinpon business connected with the exchange of isoners, represents the latter as being a ve sociable and communicative person, both in manner and speech. Forrest is said to have talked freely about the war, and expressed the opinion that Lee would abandon Richmond and arch his army through Kentucky into Illinois d that the great decisive battle of the wa build be fought somewhere in this State. The e or death of the Confederacy, Forrest thinks hie or death of the Conneceracy, Portess thanks, will depend upon the strength of the army with which Lee will invade the Northwest. It is to be regretted that the hero of the Fort Pillow massacre did not indicate the exact spot in Illinois where that big battle is to be fought.

A SINGULAR AFFAIR .- We find the following the Evansville Journal of Tuesday: By gentlemen from Henderson we learn that, a day or two ago, three guerillas of some note came into Henderson and gave themselves up to Major Shook, and took the oath of allegiance r annesty, and were permitted to leave for ome. As they left the city, a number of col-red troops, who were lying in wait, fired on the guerillas, killing one of them. The other two cturned to the city and claimed the protection of the military authorities. The affair caused considerable excitement and

The affair caused considerable excitement and some bad feeling in Henderson, and some in dulged in quite bitter remarks against Colonel Glenn and his command. We have heard but one side of the story, and refrain from any remarks of our own, further than to express our fullest confidence that the act of the negro troops was unauthorized by Colonel Glenn, as we are confident he would not sanction any such a cowardly outrage as this is represented to have been.

The latest intelligence from the impor tant operations in North Carolina is cheering to all the expectations we have entertained of General Sherman's campaign. We have felt no little solicitude to know that he had reached Fayetteville, North Carolina, whence he might easily communicate with the forces of General Schofield, and now we are positively informed that he has done so. The next intelligence, we trust, will announce the junction of Schofield and Sherman, and that we may anticipate the speedy fall of Goldsboro, the most tmportant railroad centre in North Carolina, Between the 8th and 11th instants, in the vicinity of Kinston, some desperate fighting was done by the rebels under Gen. Hoke against the forces of Gen. Cox, but the latter being reinforced by Gen. Couch, finally routed the enemy, forcing him to a bloody retreat across the Neuse river. The rebels will be apt to continue their retrest into the interior, now that Sherman has reached Fayetteville in cooperating distance of Schofield who, on Sunday ast, had reached Newbern. Our forces are al reported as in fine condition. They will not suffer from a lack of supplies, as they now enjoy uninterrupted communication with Wilmington, where our commissariat is abundant.

The Sonora project of ex-Senator Gwin. of California, is again the subject of interesting eculation. Some weeks ago, an apparently eliable statement was made from Havana that his scheme had been utterly dissipated by a failure to secure the confidence and approval of the Emperor Maximilian, and change in the determination of Louis Napoleon in reference to the matter. This inteligence induced us to doubt that any substantial basis had ever existed for the novel enterprise of Senator Gwin, Within a few days past, however, the San Francisco Democrat has given new vigor to the old rumors of the Sonora project, claiming that the prospect is highly favorable to its consummation. The Democrat says, that, from sources of information deemed reliable, it has abundant assurances that there has been no change in the plans of the French Emperor re- Bought since the decline in gold. For sale by certly: that the Mexican Empire is advancing as rapidly as could be reasonably expected; that advices had been received that Marshal Bazine, with the main portion of his army, was on his way to Mazatlin, accompanied by Dr. Gwin, and that the territory to be administered over by Gwin is to be protected by troops frem the French armies. This state of the case, as presented by the San Francisco Demoerat, is contradicted, however, by certain proceedings which are reported as having ately occurred in the French Council of tate, where, according to a despatch from Paris, the question of the cession of Sonora to rance was discussed, the Duke of Morny adcating and Drouyn d'Lhuys opposing it, and ouis Nopoleon deciding in favor of the latter. Additional information on this subject is furnished by an extract before us from a recent number of the Memorial Diplomatique, a rominent and influential French journal. The The only thing that can be probable in the eccent rumors of territorial cossions made by Mexico to France is the probably speedy realization of a plan of colonization of the State of

Dr. Gwin to the Emperor, who has approved it, and presented it to Maximilian, when the lat-ter, in March, 1864, was on a visit at the Tailmen who are more worthy to represent France The above is the most reasonable presentation of the subject we have seen. It appears, therefore, that the utmost authority likely to be exercised in Sonora by Senator Gwin will be tionality should the United States, at the close of our war, allow Louis Napoleon to proceed, unmolested, in his Mexican scheme of empire.

General Sherman lately made an official 516 Main st., bet. Pifth and Sixth, ommunication to General Wade Hampton. stating specifically, that a certain number of Federal prisoners in one place, a certain number in another, and a certain number in still another, had been murdered by their captors. and that as many Confederate officers and soldiers would be executed in retaliation.

General Hampton replied that he knew nothng about the alleged murders of Federal officers and soldiers, but that, for all the Confede rates Sherman should execute, twice the number of Federals would be executed, officers being taken first. The Confederate Congress has strongly indorsed Hampton's letter, and thanked him for writing it. Now Hampton and the rebel Congress are wrong-infernally wrong. They tion, and yet without asking, without seeking or caring to know, whether Sherman's direct statements as to the murders of Federal prisoners are or are not true, they say, that, if he dares to execute man for man in retaliation for unprovoked murders, they will retaliate by executing two for one-and officers at that. They recognize the principle of retaliation, and avowedly act on it, but tell us, that, if we dare to assert it, even to the simple extent of one for one, soldier for soldier, they will take vengeance by killing two for one, officers for soldiers!

General Wade Hampton, we think, will find that General Sherman is the last man to be bluffed or bullied. General S. will not execute rebel officers and soldiers without positive knowledge that Federal officers and soldiers have been murdered, but, if he has made up his mind to have life for life, he will carry out his resolve at all hazards. For ourselves, we don't believe much in retaliation, but certainly it is as good on one side as the other. We hold nearly twice as many prisoners as the rebels do, and perhaps the rebels had better count the probable or possible cost of the retaliation they threaten. In the mean time, it may not be amiss, on the part of the Federal Government, to stop exchanges. The Confederacy is not in a condition just now to undertake to carry things with a high hand.

A South Carolina paper says that it there's anything on earth the South Carolinians despise more than a free negro, it is a North Carolinian. Who can doubt that the bitter strifes breaking out among the rebel States all tend directly to the restoration of the old

A Richmond editor says that his chief apprehension now in regard to Sherman is that he may retreat. He needn't be scared about that. The great rebel-queller doesn't admire the tactics of the Confederate Generals enough to adopt them.

The rebel editors keep their mouths shut in regard to the movements of Sherman. It would promote their comfort if they kept their

SPECIAL NOTICES. Is Health Worth Having?

If it is, protect it. It is a jewel as easily lost as virtue and in some cases as difficult to recover. Nature, in our climate, and especially at this season, requires to be occasionally reinforced. But everything depends upon the tonic used for this purpose. The medicinal tine tures, all of which are based on common alcohol, are angerous. Quinine, as everybody finds out who takes much of it, is a slow poison. One safe protective from all unhealthy atmospheric influences exists, and one only. This powerful preventive is HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS-a compound of the purest stimulant ever manufactured, with the most effective tonics, alteratives, regulators, and depurators that chemistry has yet extracted from the botanical kingdom. Convalescents, languid and feeble from re cent sickness, will find the Bitters an incomparable res torative, not disagreeable to the taste, and eminently invigorating. No other stimulant produces the same effect as this Stomachic. It does not excite or flutter the nerves, or occasion any unque arterial action, but at once scothes and strengthens the nervous system and A Physiological View of Marriage-Contain

EUREKA

THIS IS NO HAIR DYE. REASONS WHY THE EUREKA SHOULD BE USED, It will cleanse the scalp, and thereby promote the to all that is promised, when used by the directions.
Hear what Dr. Van Zandt (one of the cidest and best objections, and most celebrated conlist in the State) ays in regard to the EUREKA.

says in regard to the EUREKA.

St. Louis, December 17, 1864

Mr. Fisher has enhalted to my inspection the recipe for making his Hair Restorative, and, after a careful examination of the different ingredients which enter into its preparation, I have no hesitation in pronouncing it (physically speaking) a most happy compound, and especially suited to the requirements of Nature, and the designs of its inventor. Therefore, it cannot prove otherwise than one of the most valuable preparations of its kind now in use, for changing the color of the hair and restoring the scalp from a diseased to a healthy condition. I have examined and conversed with persons using the Eureka, and find that it does all that is proposed in cleansing, keeping the hair from falling out, and restoring it when gray.

ETERKA.—It is not often that a professional gentleman

From the St. Louis Republicant, Fee, its, resulting graphs of the reputation of Dr. Van Zandt, indorses so fully the value of a proparation for the restoration of the colo of the hair, or any other particular object. This he does however, in the eard published to day by Mr. R. Fisher and to which gray heads are referred. BAENUR'S HOTEL, ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 1, 1863. Bannua's Hotel, St. Louis, Mo., June 1, 1883.

Mr. Fisher:

Dear Sir, I have used one bottle of your Eureka Hair Restorative, and to my full satisfaction. It does all that you claim for it, having restored my gray hair to its criginal color.

UNIFORM POLICE.—The ordinance proposing to uniform and increase the police force of the dermen to-night. This is a measure of reform in our municipal regulations that has long been needed, and one that presents itself to the approval of every good, law abiding citizen. The opposition to the measure is principally from the policemen themselves, and it is feared that the influence brought to bear upon "some members" of the Board of Aldermen by the policemen may defeat the wishes of our citizens, who are clamorous for this reform. 'Let the Board of Aldermen understand that the people are 'hearkening', listening attentively," and let their action to-night, which is looked for with so much interest, proclaim that, from this day our city shall be controlled by its legicimate "independent," constituted municipal author-

THE NEW AMERICAN CYCLOPÆDIA-A POPUlar dictionary of general knowledge, edited by George Ripley and Chas, A. Dana; in 16 volumes, 8 vol. double columns, 750 pages each. Published by D. Appleton & Co., New

The herculean task has at last been comple the world is presented with an Ameriedition of statistics, ancient and modern, which, for system, variety, research, and learning, has no successful rival. For nearly six years a staff of twenty-five editors, aided by over three hundred assistants in every part of the country, have been diligently engaged upon the work. The labor performed was immense, yet volume after volume was presented to the public until the edition was completed. The large amount of matter contained in the sixteen volumes bears the stamp of originality, presenting important facts in history in a manner clear and concise. Obsolete matter, which burdens so many of our cyclopædias, by this means was excluded from the pages, and room made for the recording of more important matter. The work is entirely American, and it is a credit to our nation. It is a library complete within itself.

The best talent of the country has been employed upon it. Among its editors and contrib utors we recognize a host of names-bright stars in the literary firmament. Statesmen, lawyers, divines, professors, and editors, who occupy the doftiest positions in the temple of contributions. The work is of incaculable value, and it should be placed on the shelf in ever household. It treats of every subject, and it pages comprise a wealth of knowledge. For reference, it is of especial value to the student and the professor. Twenty-seven thousand titles or subjects are treated of in the Cyclopædia. The sixteen volumes contain 13,804 pages. The work has been circulated entirely by subscription, seventeen thousand subscribers having been obtained for it in the United States. This fact speaks much for the wealth and intelligence of our country. Notwithstanding the erary venture, yet Messrs. D. Appleton & Co. embarked boldly in the enterprise. They invested $415,000 in the undertaking. The work is thorough, rich in literature, neatly printed,

In addition to this work an annual Cyclopedia has been prepared and three volumes are now ready for delivery. Their contents embrace the material and intellectual progress of the years 1862, 1863, and 1864. They are valpuble books, and are a continuation of the New outhern part of the State of Indiana for both of these works, and he is now engaged in delivering the books to subscribers and canvass

As soon as the roads dry up General Thomas will inaugurate a vigorous campaign, and General Wood, like a brave and gallant soldier, as he is, prefers to be with his command when a forward move ment shall take place. He is one of the finest in action, and more firm than adamantine walls when the occasion requires it. His name is associated with many brilliant victories, and, though the Government was tardy in recognever escaped from him. We trust that General Thomas will assign him to an important

THE EXECUTION OF SUE MUNDY. AN INTERVIEW WITH THE PRISONER.

Sue Mundy was ignorant of her fate until yes terday morning. Rev. Mr. Talbot, of St. John's city, that passed the Common Council at its last | Episcopal Church, was his spiritual advisersession, will be brought up in the Board of Al- When he asked Sue if he knew what would be done with him, he said he thought he would be executed, as the court-martial refused to have him introduce witnesses. The minister then asked him if he had any idea when his execution would take place. He replied, "In a few weeks." The minister then told him it would be earlier than that, "in a few days." Rev. Mr. T. then informed him that his execution would take place in a few hours. He was under the impression that he would be shot, but when he was told that he would be hung he manifested a little uneasiness by a sigh and uttering "Oh!" After the first tidings of his fate he was very calm and collected. When he fully realized his condition he knelt with his minister in prayer, and requested him to pray with him. After instruction and confession of faith in the Church, he requested to be baptized. This ordinance was administered an hour before his execution, after he had declared that he had no malice against anyone, and loved everybody He then requested Mr. Talbott to write letters to his sister, aunt, cousin, and a young lady of this State, having a lock of his hair cut off and placed in each letter.

He declared that he was not guilty of one tenth of the outrages that he was charged with, and that the Louisville Journal had done him great injustice. He positively declared that he was not present at all when those negro soldiers were killed near Simpsonville, but was far from the scene, and wounded at the time. He also denied being present when Kalfus and Roberts were killed, and said that it was Marion and his men who did it. He stated that he held a Captain's commission from Colonel Jack Allen, and was a Confederate soldier. He requested Mr. Talbott that his body should be sent to his aunt, in Franklin, Ky., and be buried by the side of bis father and mother, in his uniform, or, if that would not be permitted, at least bury him with

DESCRIPTION OF SUE MUNDY. Marcus Jerome Clark, alias Sue Mundy, was nearly six feet high, straight and remarkably well built, and we think would weigh about one hundred and sixty pounds. His complexion was fair, long dark kair which touched his shoulders, and a beautifully-shaped mouth, and, in short, was a very handsome man. His whole demeanor was firm and polite, and he hore the air of a man of culture and gentlemanly refinement. He said he "would have been twentyone years old next August, and would die before his manhood, and yet had been a man to his country." He wore a black velvet cap, a black or dark-blue jacket with one row of Kentuck State buttons, a pair of dark cassimere pants and a pair of old boots cut down in imitation of a pair of shoes.

Notwithstanding the result of the trial was kept secret, a very large crowd gathered at the place of execution, on Broadway, near lighteenth street. The gallows was a hastilyonstructed affeir. The material was the same bat was used in the scaffolding on which Vethan Marks, the guerilla, was hung some months ago, and was built precisely like the other. The platform or trap-door was supported by a prop-a rope attached to the lower

She was conveyed from the Military Prison in carriage, accompanied by her spiritual advis r, under a strong guard, and arrived at the clock, preceded by martial music. It required several minutes to form the troops in proper order, the prisoner, in the mean time, remaining in the carriage, his lips moving, as if praying a white bandkerchief up to his eyes, and his head leaning against the side of the carriage.

Captain George Swope, of the 5th Indian cavalry, and Provost Marshal, had charge of swope read the charges and specifications to the ontinually in motion, evidently offering up his

A white cap was then placed over his face, and at the word three the prop was pulled from seen a great many persons hung, but never be fore did we witness such hard struggles and convulsions. It was feared for a time that he would break the lashings. His sufferings, however, were of short duration. Thus ended the eareer of the notorious Sue Mundy.

He was left hanging some twenty minutes be fore he was cut down. Immediately a crowd gathered around the body, some trying to cut off a button, others snatching at the cord to secure a piece as a memento. A rumor was started that his jacket contained a lot of greenbacks, carefully sewed in the lining. Accordingly, before he was placed in the coffin, a gen-

As an evidence that he did have a heart and a fellow-feeling in his bosom, we append a letter to a young lady of this State, written in the Military Prison a few moments before he as taken to the place of execution:

My DEAR: I have to inform you of the sad ate which awaits your true friend. I am to suf-er death this atternoon at 4 o'clock. * * * I send you, from my chains, a message of true love; and, as I stand on the brink of the grave, I tell you I do truly, and fondly, and forever cve you. I am, ever truly, yours,
M. JEROME CLARK.

Before the prisoner was cut down from the gallows, the crowd began to disperse, and Broadway soon was jammed with a living floating mass. Onward flowed the stream, and as the head of the disordered column arrived opposite the Military Prison, a furious bull took a firm stand in the middle of the street, and stubbornly disputed the passage of the crowd. He lowered his head and threatened to gore all who came in his way. His horns were quite formidable and the argument he presented was somewhat pointed. Some of the advance skirmishers drew revolvers, and began firing at the enraged animal. Most of the shots whistled harmlessly over him, while a few struck him in various parts of the body, goading him to further madness. The crowd became denser around the furious bull, and the firing became more rapid and wild. The bull would make at an individual when a volley of pistol-shots would be directed terday from Jackson, Michigan, and forty from at him, the report would startle the ear, the smoke curl above, a pell-mell rush ensue, and all be lost in a volume of dust. To $300 BOUNTY! $300 BOUNTY! transfer wagons, and express wagons were also affected by the disturbance. They rolled onward, raising clouds of dust and producing a heavy rumble, which added much to the confusion of the hour. The soldiers in the rear, who were detached as a guard for the execu tion, were ordered to double-quick, and, with bayonets glistening in the bright sunshine, they joined in the headlong rush. Such a wild seene of disorder has seldomed been witnessed. It lasted for nearly fifteen min utes. Volley after volley was directed at the enraged animal, yet, covered with blood aud dust, and with eyes wildly glaring, he kept his feet. At last a loud shout proclaimed his fall, and, the cause of the firing becoming generally known, the commotion subsided. It is a wonder that we have no accident to record in this

ARTEMUS WARD.-Masonic Temple has been transformed into a palace for the reception fashion, intellect, and beauty. Artemus Ward is the great magnet around which this brilliant array centres. He and his Mormon entertainment constitute a powerful attraction. His name is upon everybody's lips, and, of course, with the setting sun, hundreds wend their way to the Masonic Temple. His lecture is a great success. Once hearing it does not satisfy the public. The wit with which it abounds, like good champagne, maintains its sparkle in be ing transferred from glass to glass. Its instructive points do not grow blunt by repetition. The sap of the sugar-tree loses none of its sweetness by many drawings; neither does the ecture of Artemus Ward lose any of its force and value by being often told. We can always find something in it to amuse us; and while the man maintains a character for originality, he will always exert an influence over the public. For sterling merit and the creation of downright fun, the meed of praise will ever be awarded to A. Ward. Recollect to go early if you want to secure seats for his lecture to night
